Mandatory International Mobility

All imAGEin curricula include one compulsory physical mobility between two countries, different from the student's country of residence, being structured into two blocks of one year each.

imAGEin

is an innovative 2 years joint Master Programme designed to educate the next generation of leading researchers, translational scientists, entrepreneurs, and professionals in the biology of ageing

Understanding the biology of ageing :
A global challenge

Long-term projections suggest that if population ageing is not addressed, public sector finances will face growing strain over the next 50 years due to rising age-related expenditures. As a result, demographic and economic trends position the biology of ageing as a major challenge for modern scientific research.

Advancing this field will be essential for developing innovative, sustainable solutions to improve healthspan while alleviating the economic burden of ageing populations worldwide.

4 semesters within
